The Lee Monument.

RICHMOND, VA., March 8, 1877. To the Editors of the Dispatch:

With the utmost deference for the distinguished gentlemen who compose the Board of Managers of the Lee Monument Association, we appeal to them to reconsider their recent action in calling for "models, draw-ings, and designs" for a colossal equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee, to be erected in the Capitol Square. Supposing the Board of Managers had authority to act at all in this important matter-about which we shall have somewhat to say further on-we deplore, and, with the greatest deference, protest against their unfortunate attempt to cabin, crib, and confine the range of designs to an equestrian Walker was not present. statue. When we look at the charter of the Association we see that its discretion as to the kind of monument to be erected is entirely untrammelled, as it should be. A FULL ATTENDANCE OF THE But by what authority is it that the offithe meeting on MONDAY NIGHT, as an amendment to the by-laws, offered at the last meeting, will

that the monument shall be a colossal counstrian status? In the absence of inequestrian statue? In the absence of instructions from the corporators, would it not seem to be clear that if the Board of Managers had any power in the premises it was merely to carry out the object of the charter by soliciting designs for a monument, without limitation as to its kind? As an humble citizen, without any other motive than a desire to promote this great enterprise, we cannot spare to express our profound regret that the first step towards carrying out the pious object so dear to He had also been practicing law before he Charles Bailey, and Walter D. Moses. At- through southern mail train on the Dansouthern heart has been ill-judged and inauspicious. It needs no Cassandra to predict dissatisfaction, apathy, and, it may be, failure, as the consequences of this step, if it is not recalled. Whatever may be the ability of the Board of Managers, we venture to say that the public are not prepared to acquiesce in their conclusion that the most suitable monument would be an equestrian statue, or to believe that there is no probability that the sculptors of Europe and America have creative power enough to produce a design or designs for some other kind of monument which would be more acceptable than the one approved of by the Board. Appealing, then, to the Board of Managers to reconsider their action, we beg them to make their invitation for designs, &c., without limitation or restriction, taking care to adopt the wise and timely sugges- S. H. Waugh, Francis M. Mills (suit; on the contrary, it gives a wide discretion in that particular. We humbly ask, Where is the fitness of putting another statue in that already-crowded Square? PROFESSOR POLLARD'S celebrated NEW OR-LEANS JUBILEE SINGERS will give two of their GRAND VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL CONCERTS, for the benefit of the statue in that already-crowded Square? That it was a mistake to put the Jackson statue there is to our (perhaps untutored) mind manifest. It was unjust to the city. whose attractions should be distributed; and it was prejudicial to the statue to give it a position which dwarfs it. Imagine how the manly, heroic figure of Jackson would expand and grow if placed in the middle of the space formed by the intersection of Main and Fifth streets. May we not, then, be spared the chagrin of seeing another statue crowded into the Capitol Square?

As the object of the incorporation of the Lee Monument Association was the erection of a monument to General Lee, we trust we Rev. Samuel Register, presiding elder, made shall not be regarded as captious if we ask a statement of its condition. whether that fundamental purpose can be carried out by the Board of Managers-the directors-alone, without the voice of the members of the corporation at large? Had the corporators been convened and consulted about the important and interesting | Wolf, S. G. Ferguson, J. L. Shipley, and object for which they have given their Lewis G. Martin. James Beatty, of Mooremoney? The charter of the Association contemplated that the contributors to the monument fund should have a voice in its counsels, for the second section provides that the said Association shall have power to provide for representation in its general meetings and elections of the individual subscribers to the fund raised by subscription," &c. [Acts 1870-'71, 47.] Now, if there can ever an occasion for a general meeting of the corporators of this Association it was undoubtedly to take measures to procure a suitable design for the fundamental object of the corporation. Have the Board of Managers acted without calling a general meeting? If they have we appeal to them in the name of the enterprise to retrace their steps, and avoid the perilous error of exceeding their powers.

The Lee Monument.

To the Editors of the Dispatch:

The Police Board.

Messrs. Editors, -As the Board of Aldermen refuse or neglect to second the Common Council in its application to the Legislature for an amendment to the charter to reorganize the Police Board, a direct appeal to the Legislature by the citizens is not only proper, but imperatively demanded. There is no time to lose. The Legislature has barely two weeks of working time left lowing business was transacted yesterday: it, and the opponents of the measure, as they have done in the Council, will claim all the delay possible; so the friends of reorganization must commence proceedings at once, and with greater determination Theatre, on the occasion of the Medical music is always indescribable, and this was of the very best. In all my life I have seldom been so moved. The effect of the brass, the reeds, and the drums was simply glorious. No organ approaches it. This sounds extravagant, but it is the simple truth as to my own emotions. It but confirms what I have often said in private, and intended to say in print, that the givers of concerts make a great mistake in not introducing occasionally a religious composition, vocal or instrumental; and the simpler the composition the better, the sublimer, and more effective; for religion with 9-2t*

Truth to tell, concert-givers are very unregardful of the claims of the bulk of their audiences, who pay most of the money and get least of the pleasure. Their programmes are always pitched too high. But I will not let my pen run away with me on this subject. Again I thank Mr. Kessnich with all my heart.

MANCHESTER NEWS.

"No news" and high winds were the prevailing items in our city yesterday. Mayor Chiles had before him a colored couole, each in turn charged with an attempt to kill the other. Their threats had been numerous, but the execution vague. The wife was discharged, but the husband was bound over to keep the peace, as it was susnected that he had a razor in his boot.

DR. SCHENCK'S STANDARD REMEDIES .- The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA-WEED TONIC, and SCHRNCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and if taken before the lungs are destroyed a speedy cure is effected.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases. The Pulmonic Syrup ripons the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest, and the lungs begin to heal. To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sca-Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall-bladder, the blie starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved. Schenck's Sea-Weed Tonie is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists For my part, I doubt the expediency of the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold. All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either per-
